

Eastern Technology Group (ETG)

From seed stage through venture funding and from IPO to global market leadership, ETG provides an array of analytical services, risk management and insurance solutions to firms in the technology, clean energy, life sciences and emerging growth industries. We help clients in these fast-growth market segments effectively manage business risks across the full scope of their enterprise during each step in their evolution.

ETG helps clients answer the question: How do we balance the urgent need to launch innovative products, open new markets, and create strategic opportunities with the need to protect our assets: human, capital, experiential, and intellectual?

Experts Who Understand the Unique Needs and Business Risks of Your Industry

Whether you are a:

- Seed-stage firm with a groundbreaking new application
- Growing biotech company with European clinical trials awaiting FDA green light
- Well-funded components manufacturer with several rounds under your belt, a solid board of directors, a proven product in a desirable market, and prepping for an IPO
- Mature, publicly traded firm with global operations looking to acquire young technology and open new markets, or
- Evolving, fast growing company at any stage in its business lifecycle

ETG provides significant strategic value by managing business risks as you become-or continue to be-a great company

Our areas of expertise include, but are not limited to:

- Directors and Officers (D&O) Liability
- Property, Business Income
- Environmental
- General & Professional Liability
- Technology Errors and Omissions
- Workers Compensation
- Clinical Trial Product Liability
- Intellectual Property
- Internet Liability
- Employee Benefits
- International Exposures
- Foreign Workers' Compensation

We work with leading professional services providers catering to technology and fast growth industries-law firms, CPA's, venture capital firms, private equity investors and investment bankers-to help our clients navigate the complex, ever-changing landscape of business risk.

For more information, call Thomas A. Brown, Vice President at 617-897-1036, or tbrown@easterninsurance.com.

ETG is a Globex partner